VISIT TO PRIYADARSHINI PLANETARIUM, TRIVANDRUM BY PHYSICAL SCIENCE STUDENTS

National Science Day is celebrated every year on February 28 to popularize the importance of science as it comes into play in the daily life of the people. The day commemorates the discovery of the Raman Effect by Indian physicist Sir C. V. Raman in 1928.

A simple and effective way to realize the value of science and to know about its various features, specialties and discoveries is to pay a visit to Kerala State Science and Technology Museum Complex in Thiruvananthapuram district. An autonomous organization, the centre aims to inculcate a sense of inquiry and scientific temperament in the minds of the young. Located in the heart of the city, the museum has various galleries on electricity, electronics, power and motion mechanics with over 300 exhibits. Besides that, visitors we can view galleries on Popular Science, Mathematics, Automobile, Biomedical Engineering, Computer and Solar Energy, a Science Park, a Mobile Science Exhibition Unit.

Muslim College of Education organized a one-day field trip to Priyadarshini Planetarium, Trivandrum for physical science students on 23/02/2019. The journey of the trip started from the college campus at 7.00 a.m. The trip was arranged to increase awareness of science and technology among physical science students.

Experienced the glimpse of the sky and the hybrid planetarium with tilted dome, projected the latest updates on astronomical science including photographs, and present live astronomy classes as well as edutainment film shows.

The main GM-11 starfield projector projects most of the constituents of the visible universe. The projector can stimulate the star-studded night sky over any location on the earth.

The museum offered a chance for us to observe the night sky through an automatic telescope.

It was a day with more fun and excitements.
